Duration: 9 weeks

Fee: €70

Course Description

Chakra Dance is a form of meditation through dance which helps the participant unblock their own chakras. The word Chakra comes from Indian Ayurvedic wisdom over 4000 years ago, and translates into sanskrit which simply means "Wheel". According to chakra philosophy we all have 7 chakras between the base of our spine and the crown of our head which co-relate with different aspects of our life including productivity, self realisation, masculine/feminine energy, creativity, communication skills and relationships with self and others.

This course will help educate people to connect back to who they are. They will discover what makes them function fully emotionally and spiritually and what is blocking them from having a fulfilled and happy life. The class consists of meditation followed by an hour of dancing, finishing with Mandala artwork based on Carl Jung psychology where you tap into your subconscious form and connect it to the conscious. It is fun, safe and is a form of self healing in a guided environment. The music is different each week and comes from all around the world.
